THE FRIENDLY FACE of Broad Ripple Branch Librarian Mrs. Eleanor Lacey welcomes Ripple Senior Pam Humes as she checks out books for a source theme.

The Changing Faces of Broad Ripple

The faces of Broad Ripple High School displayed significant changes in 1961.

The most pronounced change appeared in the face of the high school itself bringing a new look to the building along White River. Changes in the face of Ripple's student body came with the addition of new students and new teachers. The expressions on Ripplites faces reflected pride in the new wing, its modern auditorium and its spacious cafeteria. In addition there were the smiles of greeting friends, assuming upperclassman roles and shedding the "freshman stigma." Throughout the year, these faces mirrored studious concentration, the crackling excitement of a football game, the dreaminess of a dance. They were laughing; they were worried. They were pensive; they were blank. They showed interest in study; they showed interest in social activities. The faces belong to 2,022 Ripplites; the faculty, the staff; the faces belonged to the doorways, the building of brick and stone; each an individual part; each vital to the changing face of Broad Ripple High School.

THE WIDE BEND of historic White River inspires the picturesque name for the community and school.

THE ORIGINAL LITTLE TOWN of Broad Ripple formerly "north" of Indianapolis remains today as Ripple's good neighbor, the business center now known as Broad Ripple Village.

CLASSROOMS IN THE NEW ADDITION bring relief to the school's crowded conditions. Mrs. Janet Blocker finds their spaciousness permits individual counseling while students work on projects.

VIRGEL CLARK, director of productions, and Gene Poston, Music Department head, plan auditorium performances.

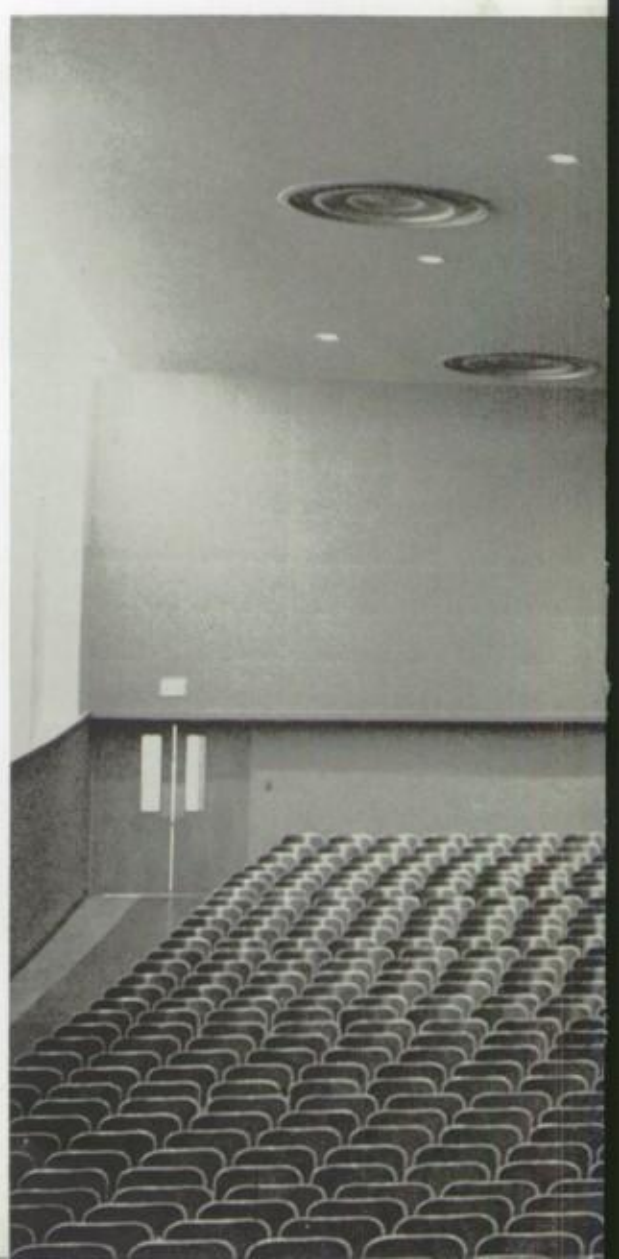
A new magnificence in school productions is among the foremost of changes viewed by Ripplites this year. Whether sitting in one of the 1,209 cushioned seats or performing on the spacious, modern stage, students enjoy the numerous advantages of Ripple's new auditorium.

Special effects, including multi-colored lights, sound variations, and scenery, aid in school presentations. The new depth and height of the stage enable the stage crew to store scenery high above the floor on balanced cyces. With this apparatus, backdrops may be "flown in" by the pull of a rope. The stage prop room allows ample space for making and storing scenery and props.

Other accessories include a catwalk, a spiral stairway, and a communications system between the two dressing rooms and stage. Clearer tones are heard from the orchestra pit, and sound amplification is regulated from the complex sound booth located in the back of the auditorium.

New auditorium is fulfillment of Ripple dream

ADJUSTING CARBONS in a newly installed spotlight, Jeff Henn and Dean Strietelmeier experiment to improve stage lighting skills.



PREPARING FOR A PRODUCTION, Jim Strietelmeier and Pete Chenoweth check the script for lighting changes.

"TWO PLEASE," says Lyle Henry stopping at the new ticket office to buy Ripples tickets from Charlene Farrow.

"A PERFORMER'S EYE VIEW" of Ripple's new 1,209 seat auditorium reveals great seating capacity. The auditorium is used for both school and community productions.

which serves 1,950 students during the four daily lunch periods.

Ripple's new cafeteria

Ripple's modern cafeteria effects the most notable change in every-day school life. Four fast-moving lines and a larger seating capacity enable students to enjoy a long-awaited forty minute lunch period—double the time allotted in previous years. Pastel walls, flourescent lighting, yellow formica-topped tables, and new salmon-colored chairs contribute to a more relaxing meal-time. A suction garbage disposal and automatic dishwasher benefit the cafeteria.

In the cafeteria manager's new office, Mrs. Laura Snyder makes constant efforts to improve the service and menu for students and faculty. Such innovations as dish heaters, temperature-controlled steam tables, and pass-through shelves from kitchen to counter area also facilitate food service.

Conveniently located near the cafeteria so that students may purchase materials during their lunch hour, the bookstore supplies Ripplites with textbooks and other equipment at an economical rate. The financial office, behind the bookstore, handles the records of all monetary transactions of the school.

FINANCIAL SECRETARY Mrs. Rosemary Clouser enjoys the customer service counter, a feature of the spacious business office.

UNCLE SAM CALLS Don Dahn to sign up for the draft with Mrs. Josephine Wolf, school secretary.

STUDENT AND FACULTY representatives, Pam Hatfield, Brian Smith, and Vice-principal Harold Harding, plan for the safety campaign.

KEEPING UP with school activities, Mrs. Marcia Duke checks her mailbox located in Ripple's new office area.

Ripple executive suite expands into new wing

Co-ordinating the work of the Broad Ripple staff, faculty, student body, and the policies of the School Board keeps Ripple's Principal J. Fred Murphy busy. In addition, this year Mr. Murphy, now president of the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, inspected the US armed services schools in Europe.

Well qualified for his job, Mr. Murphy served both as a classroom teacher and as the first city and state guidance director before coming to Ripple 12 years ago. In recognition of his outstanding work as principal, he received the American Educator's Medal which the Freedoms Foundation awarded to only 12 people in the nation in 1960.

Ripple students for many years to come will be grateful to Mr. Murphy for his efforts which resulted in the construction of the school's modern east wing completed this year.

Assisting the principal in his duties, Vice-principal Harold K. Harding serves as the school treasurer and building supervisor while the curriculum is under the direction of Vice-principal Roger Riley.

VICE-PRINCIPAL Roger Riley uses the new communication center to broadcast news of coming events to Ripplites.

APPRECIATIVELY, Principal J. Fred Murphy, recalls the support he received from Broad Ripple students and teachers as he studies the American Educator's Medal awarded to him by the Freedoms Foundation in 1960.

Counselors guide program and college choices

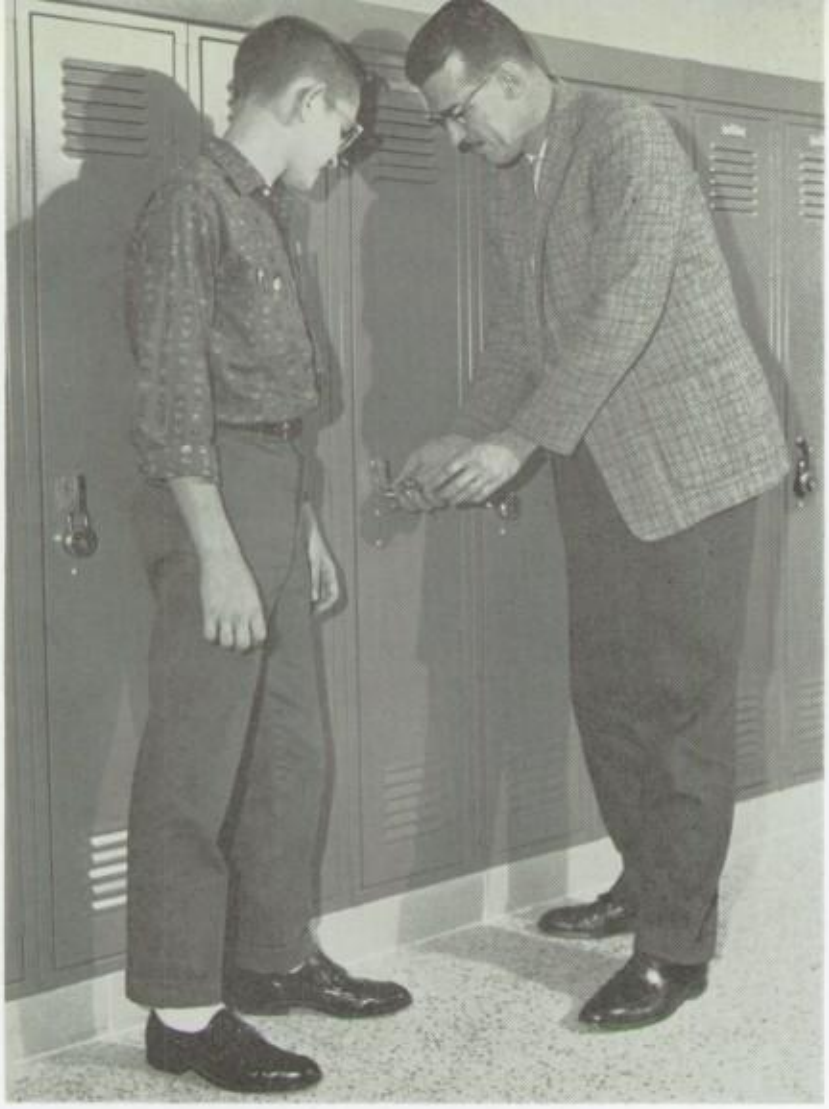
Broad Ripple's faculty assists Ripplites in adjusting to high school life and facing the increasing competition of the changing future. Ripple freshmen receive encouragement and guidance in making their four-year plans by the Freshman Guidance Counselor Miss Marie Sullivan. Later, during the freshman, sophomore, and junior years, homeroom teachers, headed by Miss Sullivan, Edward Kassig, and Arnold Pahmeier, respectively, help each pupil see where he stands in his class and adjust his schedule according to his ability and needs.

At mid-year Guidance Counselor Robert J. Bryant replaced B. L. Stonecipher, who became city guidance counselor. Mr. Bryant assists Ripplites in choosing a college and gaining admission after the decision has been made. Placement Director Albert Mahin aids Ripple students in finding jobs that suit their interests and abilities.

Mrs. Rosalind Ewing, dean of girls, and Warren K. Jackson, dean of boys, help students solve personal problems and develop into well-balanced individuals with respect for themselves and others.

PLANNING for her high school years, Carol Falender charts her courses under the guidance of Miss Marie Sullivan.

CHECKING RECORDS of the Orange Aid used book store are Mrs. Rosalind Ewing, Linda Wolf, Jane Uhl, Sharon Marston.



TAKING TIME OUT from his counseling duties, Warren K. Jackson explains the new lockers to Doug Richards.

CLASS RANKINGS interest Seniors Bob Harmon, Dave Jenkins, and Margaret Arbuckle as they confer with Albert R. Mahin.

SUGGESTIONS given by B. L. Stonecipher aid Anne Castle, Dave Keown, Barb Minton, and Bela Jozsi in choosing a college.

"Too sporty for this affair," suggests Dave Mannweiler, last year's representative to the National Teenage Press Conference, to this year's representitive, Bill Reichert.

Ripplites win national, state, local recognition

Ripple's top citizen and place winner in the Indiana DAR Good Citizenship Contest, Peggy Colvin, recalls America's struggle for freedom as she looks at the fifty-star flag.

Ripple captured the limelight in varied fields during this past year.

Peggy Colvin received honorable mention in the state contest for the DAR good citizen award. Another scholastic first for Ripple was the qualification of eight students as National Merit Scholarship Finalists. Elaine Augustine and Tom Hedberg were the final winners of the scholarships.

Attending the National Teenage Press Conference to encourage high school journalism were Bill Reichert and Dave Mannweiler.

Honored on the city level were Dave Chapman, elected president of the City Student Council, and the cheerleaders, chosen "Best in the City" by the Kiwanis Club.

City student council president Dave Chapman awaits the final motion before adjourning.

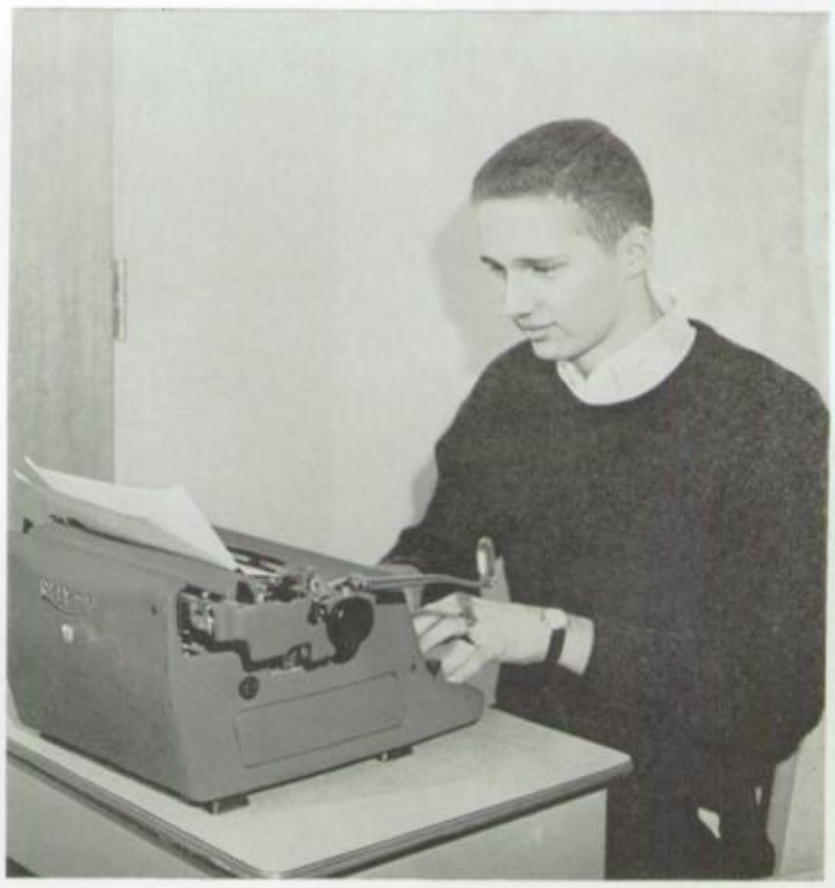
FILLING OUT NUMEROUS FORMS occupies National Merit Scholarship Finalists Tom Ewbank, Dwain McKinzie, Ken Hurst, Susie Lancet, Steve Crockett, Tom Hedberg, Elaine Augustine, and Bill Johnson.

MARCI FOX admires the award she received as winner of the Betty Crocker Good Homemaker Award at Broad Ripple High School.

Broad Ripple students win awards for oratory,

WRITING AN IMPORTANT LETTER, Broad Ripple Junior Tom Merrill, carries out his duties as the president of the Indiana High School Press Association for 1961.

EIGHT HOURS OF COLLEGE CREDIT was Bill Johnson's reward for his eight weeks of study in English literature, composition, and typing under the Foundations for College program at IU.



The desire to work, advance, and win is deeply rooted in Ripple's personality.

In addition to taking eight hours of college studies at Indiana University during the summer months, Bill Johnson won first place in the District American Legion Oratorical Contest and placed third in the zone contest.

Another award-winning orator, Jeff Hammond placed third in the state in the "Voice of Democracy" Contest. To further Ripple's "speaking" reputation, this year's Debate Team won second place in the zone contest of the Indiana High School Forensic Association contest.

Combining speech and government, Ripple sent five representatives to the Purdue Legislature. There, while imitating the state government in debate and discussion of bills, these teenage legislators acquired five awards.

Ripple claimed the limelight in other fields also. Marci Fox showed her academic and homemaking ability by winning the Betty Crocker award.

As president of the Indiana High School Press Association, Tom Merrill co-ordinates the activities of the annual state meeting at Franklin College.

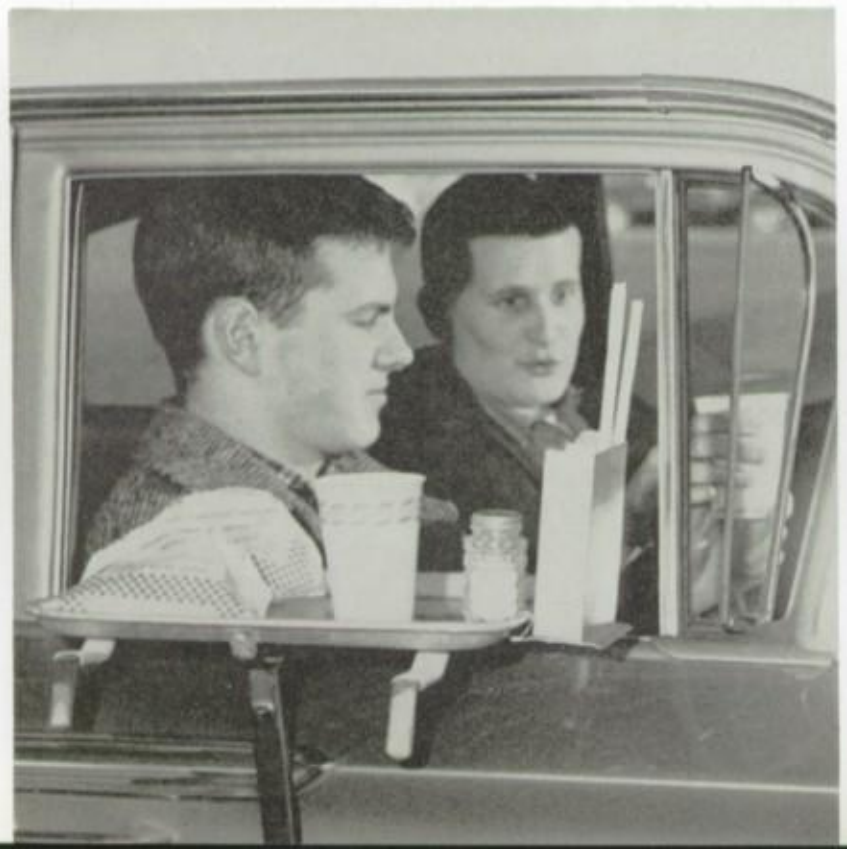
ALL-TIME-RECORD SETTERS! For the first time in the 18-year history of the Purdue Legislature one high school won five awards, the highest possible that any school could win. Members of this record-setting team from Broad Ripple, Larry Morrison, Pete Barrick, Mike McGee, Jeff Hammond, and Mark Minton, talk over their individual awards.

American and danish AFSers, Wally Orr and Ole Christensen mail letters to their families in Austria and Denmark.

"Americans' favorite foods taste even better at a drive-in!" exclaims Ole Christensen to Bill Stone, his American host.



Gazing wistfully at his Austrian mountain climber's hat, Wally Orr recalls fond memories of his summer AFS trip.

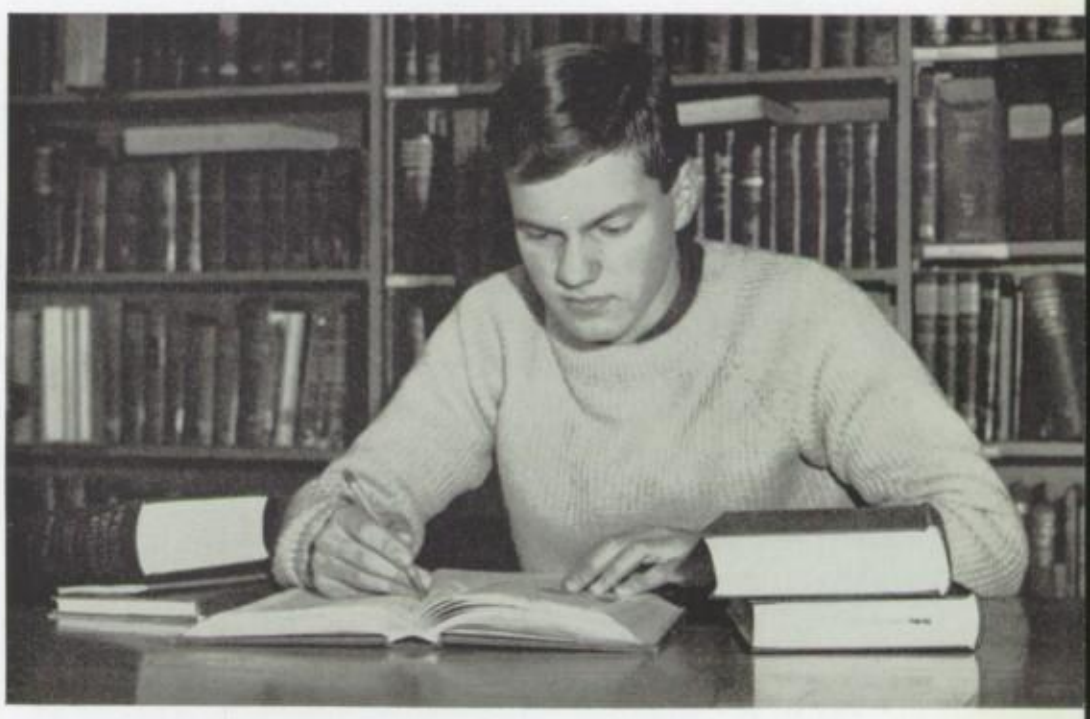
AFSers strengthen Old and New World Ties

Language is no problem for Ripple's fourth foreign exchange student, Ole Christensen, who speaks French, Swedish, German, Latin, and Italian as well as fluent English and his native Danish. A typical blue-eyed, brown-haired Scandinavian from Virum, Denmark, Ole readily adapted himself to the American school system and social life. He participated actively in Student Council, Key Club, Thespians, Photo Staff, and Golden Singers and was a promising member of the Tennis Squad. Ole lived with Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Stone.

In exchange, AFSer Wally Orr visited Austria during the summer months. He stayed with the Pichler family on their 80-acre farm in southern Austria where he helped his "family" with work on the farm, swam in a nearby lake, and visited the people and cities of the country, particularly Vienna, before sailing home in August.

STUDYING FOR FINALS, Ole Christensen takes advantage of the quiet of the Broad Ripple High School library.



Kicking off the year, the All-City Jamboree brought a surge of school spirit as Ripplites boosted their team and applauded their football queen. The last-minute flurry to finish floats, the eager waiting for the queen to be announced, the thrill of the Rocket victory, and the fun of the "Goalpost Gallup" marked the 1960 Homecoming.

Color and happy confusion characterized the annual Association of Parents and Teachers Carnival as Ripplites worked hard to sell everything from popcorn to "slaves."

Chandeliers atwinkle with stars adorned the gym for "Stardust," the Twelfth Annual Riparian Dance which climaxed the Riparian subscription campaign. With Christmas in the air and Christmas decorations covering the gym, Ripple girls donned swishing formals to attend the Military Ball. "Share-the-Fare," a post-game disc-jockey dance to which the boys and girls went "Dutch Treat," helped Ripplites finance their foreign exchange student, Ole Christensen.

WREATHED IN SMILES, Homecoming Queen Pam Krabbenhoft is crowned with flowers by last year's queen, Susie Stanton.

RIPARIAN ROYALTY Kathy Zimlich and Bill Reichert happily reign over the annual Riparian Dance, "Star Dust."

CIRCLING THE FIELD during the ceremonies at half-time are Homecoming Queen Finalists Becky Collins, Anne Fox, Marty Loudenbeck, and Betty Sechrist.

JAMBOREE QUEEN Anne Fox grins up at Broad Ripple's "most valuable football player," Dave Meek.

"LOOK OVER THERE," says Steve Crockett as he and Dave Chapman, portraying lost New Yorkers, discover Brigadoon.

Mystic Scotland captures

Amid the whirl of colorful plaid kilts, gay Highland flings, and lilting Scottish brogues, the Golden Singers, assisted by the Orchestra, brought the fantasy of a tiny Scottish village to Ripple in their production of Lerner and Loewe's Broadway musical, "Brigadoon," December 8 and 10. This year the new stage facilities made it possible for the Golden Singers to break from the traditional "operetta" to present a Broadway musical.

Many hours spent learning songs, memorizing lines, and blocking scenes, were climaxed by the two presentations of the musical which starred Jain Lee Wright and Steve Crockett. Gene Poston, music director; Mrs. Rosalee Hofmann, production and publicity manager; and Miss Ruth Bertsch, dramatics, directed the production. Staging, sets, and lighting handled by Virgel Clark and Ferd Brumblay, and sound directed by Paul Brown added to the realism of the production.

AS FLIRTATIOUS MEG, Ann Hobson teases Allan Miller while Bob Fowler and Dave Smith cast admiring glances.

OLD MR. LUNDIE, the Scottish schoolmaster played by Ken Bierman, tells Bob Billeisen, and Jane Hargitt, two of the townspeople, the story of the miracle of Brigadoon.

Music, art courses grow

by Martha Susan Johnson

Crescendo, crescendo, crash! —silence. Where are these dramatic sounds? They could be in the new rooms of the vocal music classes as a choir climaxes an anthem with a bold crescendo.

Songs echoing down the new halls can be heard from any one of the Broad Ripple choirs practicing for a program. Sounds from these rooms might originate from the stereo set built by Paul Brown, orchestra director, with funds from Music Department projects. They might be tones of the orchestra rehearsing in the new auditorium. The Music Department, utilizing the new facilities, gave several extra programs among them "Touring America on Wings of Song" presented by the Golden Singers, A Cappella Choir, and Boys' and Girls' Concert Choirs.

The Art Department with its record enrollment also moved its headquarters to the new building. Highlighting the art curriculum are handicraft and poster contests, exhibits at Glendale and Instruction Center, and circulating collections. Ripplites in the art program also make posters and table decorations for community affairs. For the first year, photography is part of the curriculum of general art, craft art, jewelry, and ceramics.

EXPERIMENTING with the Art Department's new press, Freddie Kell, Ted Heidloff, Becky McIntyre, and Betty Howell find that this new equipment has many uses.

BROAD RIPPLE'S new language laboratory provides practice in speaking and comprehending a foreign language.

Used for the first time this year, the language laboratory contains thirty booths which produce taped voices of French, Spanish, and German. This laboratory is an important part of the Language Department's increased emphasis on conversation in modern languages. Etymology provides correlation between the Language and English Departments.

In the Broad Ripple English Department, nineteen teachers present a wide variety of English skills and studies ranging from literature to composition, to library science and dramatics. To help students improve reading techniques, two semesters of reading laboratory are provided.

Social Studies classes

by Wally Orr

This year, students in the Ripple Social Studies Department, gained first-hand knowledge of the workings of a presidental election through spirited discussion of the actual campaign issues and extensive reading of the candidate's movements. Government, Contemporary History, and International Relations classes gave special study to the election's mechanics and its effects on the nation and the world.

Underclassmen study the over-all picture of world events in world history, whereas U.S. and Pan American History offer a more detailed study of events in the Americas. In Economics Ripplites learn of the American system of capitalism. Geography and Psychology classes analyze the consequences of land, climate, and men's minds on civilization.

DISTILLING WATER are Edward J. Kassig, new Science Department head, and Dr. Lowell Hicks, who participated in the Traveling Science Teacher Program.

Slide rules and compasses, formaldehyde and sulphur, leaf collections and electricity experiments are the elements which make up the Math and Science Departments. Broad Ripple offers fourteen semesters of mathematics ranging from General Math to Calculus and Analytic Geometry. The science curriculum affords a varied selection of courses with biology, physical science, chemistry, physics, and advanced biology.

Keeping pace with other changes in the school, the Math Department has three experimental first year algebra classes. Students in these classes use a textbook written by Dr. Glen Vannatta, department head. These experimental classes strive to present algebra with greater understanding of basic principles. Advanced math courses such as Trigonometry, and a combination of calculus and analytic geometry prepare students for college work and provide an excellent background for science courses.

Edward J. Kassig is the new Science Department head. Another faculty member, Dr. R. Lowell Hicks, returned to Broad Ripple after a year's leave of absence to participate in the Traveling Science Teacher Program for which he toured central Indiana high schools to encourage demonstrations by classroom teachers and stimulate interest in science and math.

Sounds of whirring sewing machines, rattling pots, and enthusiastic discussions issue from the Home Economics Department as students study the fundamentals of clothing, cooking, and Family Living.

The Business Education Department, accompanied by sounds of clacking typewriters, coaches future businessmen and secretaries by offering Business Law, Retail Selling, Bookkeeping, Business Arithmetic, typing, and shorthand.

by Betty Sechrist

Ripple's sharpshooting freshman rifle team this year outshot all other schools in the city. Besides acquiring a sharp eye for shooting, boys enrolled in ROTC are trained in military tactics from neatness and courtesy to precise drill maneuvers. Sfc. J. C. Britton and Sfc. William T. Farmer teach these and other subjects which will prepare a boy for more than just military life. Students themselves also have the opportunity to teach classes.

Senior girls enrolled in Health learn ways to sooth and mend "pains" and "sprains." The girls, under the direction of Miss Max Moreillon, learn home nursing and Red Cross techniques in addition to studying the regular Health text.

"Grunts" and "groans" echo from the boys' and girls' gyms as freshmen exercise and perform acrobatics and practice seasonal sports.

ACTIVITIES

Broad Ripple Booster Club

Ripple faces show interest in a broad field of activities, ranging from honoraries to service organizations to academic clubs. Students develop their respective interests and talents through discussion of current problems, participation in community affairs, and listening to various speakers.

THANKSGIVING IS SHARED by Tri-Hi-Y officers as Harriet Elam, Margaret Arbuckle, Pat Whaley, and Dee Stanton pack canned food for a needy family in the community.

Through community projects, money-making plans, and hard work, Ripple's service clubs benefit the school and community.

Orange Aid, to which every Broad Ripple girl belongs, promotes various projects for the Julietta Home for the Aged. Besides regular visits, the girls give parties in the wards, tray favors for special occasions, and stuffed animals to the residents of the home.

Orange Aid directs the Big Sister plan, the freshman tea and orientation at the beginning of each semester, and Fresh-Aids, the freshman girls' club. This program enables freshmen and other new girls to become acquainted with the school.

Ripple girls are the "parents" of Choo Jung, a high-school-age Korean orphan. She receives letters and gifts from the girls during the year. The Used Bookstore, which Orange Aid operates, and the style show at the carnival supply the income for the club's service projects. Mrs. Rosalind Ewing guides Orange Aid in these activities.

In the spring, both Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y sell mints for the World Service, an overseas project sponsored by the YMCA. Both clubs also participate in the Model United Nations. Endeavoring to fulfill the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y mottos, "Clean speech, clean

Members of Tri-Hi-Y volunteer to work at Crossroads Rehabilitation Center and Central Hospital. They give a basket of food at Thanksgiving and clothe a child at Christmas. Robert Eisenbarth and Mrs. Janet Blocker are the sponsors of Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y, respectively.

As a service to the school, Future Business Leaders of America conducts telephone surveys on the Ripple graduating class of four years past. Their money-making projects include a booth at the carnival and the sale of candy. Miss Grace Cunningham, sponsor, is assisted by Miss Winifred West and Miss Jean Hoilman in guiding the club.

By doing volunteers' work in hospitals and by listening to speakers, members of Future Nurses Club gain experience and insight into the medical field. Miss Louise Rice, school nurse, sponsors the club.

"It's new; let's keep it that way!" Student Council members invent slogans, pick up wastepaper, and design eye-catching posters to promote year-round clean-up and care of school property. By sponsoring the annual Homecoming festivities, maintaining two bulletin boards of current school events, and presenting a yearly auditorium, council members lead the student body. Sponsored by John Morris and Dr. Lowell Hicks, the council participates actively in the American Field Service foreign exchange student program by arranging for a foreign student to study at Ripple each year and a Ripplite to go abroad.

Outstanding qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service are required for membership in Ripple's chapter of the National Honor Society. Seniors and juniors having a six-point average and sophomores having a seven-point average are eligible for membership. At regular meetings, members hear noted speakers and organize future projects. Members earn money to support club activities through the sale of popcorn and ice cream at home basketball games. A formal banquet and induction ceremony is given each spring in honor of newly elected members. This year's induction was May 3. National Honor Society sponsors are Miss Margaret Coombs and Albert Mahin.

JHS, Key Club undertake trips, program sales

by Larry Morrison

At Ripple, honor and service are closely coordinated in Key Club and Junior Historical Society.

Key Club, composed of 37 members, is a boys' honorary affiliated with Kiwanis Club. To achieve its aim, service, the club sells programs at home games, clothes children at Christmas, donates to CARE and Radio Free Europe, gives a $100 scholarship, and organizes Freshman-Sophomore Career Day. This year the club, sponsored by Warren K. Jackson, has three state officers: Lyle Henry, Lieutenant Governor; Tom Ewbank, State Secretary; and Dave Mannweiler, editor of Inkey, the state Key Club publication.

The largest honorary club at Ripple is Junior Historical Society, sponsored by J. Raymond Hall, history teacher. The club maintains a collection of campaign buttons from political campaigns dating from 1824 to the present time. Club members also collect letters written during the Civil War period and this year donated a book, The Old Northwest, published by the Indiana Historical Society, to the school library. Another project was a weekend trip to Chicago, enabling students to visit museums and to learn more about the windy city.

CLEAN SWEEP! Key Club officers Dave Chapman, Wally Orr, Em Moore, and Lyle Henry sweep the gym floor at halftime.

CIVIL WAR LETTERS, collected by members of Junior Historical Society, are read and copied by officers Elaine Augustine, Marilyn Wilson, Pete Barrick, and Rick Coble.

Ripple's co-curricular clubs fill out busy schedule

by Evalena Truan

TAKING ADVANTAGE of their new bulletin boards in the main hall of the new wing, Art Club officers Susan Steininger, Paulette Mischenko, and Winifred Kell put the finishing touches on an Art Club display.

Complementing Ripple's academic program are its co-curricular clubs designed to promote participation in fields of special interest.

Studying the customs and traits of the people who speak the foreign languages taught at Broad Ripple is the purpose of Foreigneers Club. The club's program for the year includes talks by foreign exchange students on their native lands and correspondence with non-English-speaking pen-pals. Sponsoring the club are Miss Elaine BeVard and Mrs. Mary Jensen.

Clef Club, sponsored by Mrs. Rosalee Hofmann, is Ripple's honorary music organization. Students gain membership through vocal and instrumental auditions. The club participates in Homecoming, sponsors a carnival booth, sells chocolate candy, and presents a spring auditorium.

Art Club, supervised by Miss Doris Brinkman, strives to interest Ripplites in art and art appreciation. Taking field trips and sponsoring art workshops are included in the program for the year.

Students gain specialized knowledge and experience in math and science through experiments, films, field trips, and demonstrations offered by the Chemistry-Physics Club. The club, directed by Nino Morone, sponsors a Ripple Science Fair and enters exhibits in the State Contest.

Contests, performances,

by Richard Nay

Contests, plays, and workshops keep Ripple's debaters, dramatists, and librarians occupied.

Debate Club and Forensic League participate in speech contests throughout Indiana. The debaters, sponsored by Donald Fasig, spend the fall months in preparation through extensive reading and note-taking. In the Novice Debate Tournament at Lafayette, Ripple debaters placed fourth, seventh, and eighth among the 160 participants. With the exception of this debate, most of the tournaments occur in the spring, climaxed by the State Tourney, a series of eliminations starting at the local level.

Members of National Thespians Troupe 1170 display their acting and speaking skills by presenting a three-act play, this year entitled "The Night of January 16." Other projects of the club, sponsored by Mrs. Donna Leigh Hanley, include Varsity Varieties and an auditorium. Understudies, sponsored by Mrs. Anne Obenchain, practice pantomines, skits, and plays.

A "Literary" Christmas tree ornament contest, displays for the promotion of National Book Week, attendance at library workshops throughout the state, and preparation for the library's move to its new location are the main projects of the Library Club, sponsored by Mrs. Phoebe Diederich.

Vocal groups work with new stage equipment

by Allan Miller and Steve Crockett

The Christmas Program, Spring Festival, All-City Choir Festival, Easter Auditorium, and Twelfth Night Services are just a few of the programs in which the Broad Ripple High School Choir participates each year. One hundred voices strong, the Choir, composed of Golden Singers and the A Cappella Choir is the largest in the city.

A Cappella Choir, a mixed chorus of sixty voices, serves as an understudy to the Golden Singers. Preparation for public performances with actual experience is the chief aim of the A Cappella Choir which appears in 10 programs each year, along with the Golden Singers.

"Golden Singers is the 'work horse' of the department," affirms Gene Poston, head of the Music Department and director of both the A Cappella Choir and the Golden Singers. In addition to appearances with the A Cappella Choir, the group appears 15 separate times and presents a musical each year. This year, on December 8 and 10, after many long hours of rehearsals and time-consuming moments spent learning lines, the Golden Singers presented Lerner and Loewe's musical comedy, "Brigadoon." With the aid of a complete new lighting and sound system and the most modern stage equipment, the show, which was the first performance in the new 1,209 seat auditorium, was presented with all of the excitement and mastery of a real "Broadway" musical production.

The Madrigal Singers is the highest level of vocal music organizations at Broad Ripple. Composed of nine male voices and eight female voices, the group performs for small civic organizations and school programs. The Madrigal Singers' repertoire consists of fifteenth century songs and other arrangements sung without the aid of accompaniment.

Since acquiring its "new home", the total enrollment of the vocal music department has increased over last year and the number of freshmen participating is the largest ever.

Ripple's marching band, led by the drum major, Jim Stoner, and directed by Wallace A. Decker struts its way through an impressive series of half-time shows during the football season. The majorettes and flag twirlers, chosen by audition from the Baton Club, aid the band in performances. After the football season, the band participates in the Christmas and Spring Auditoriums, Band Auditorium, Ripple Round-Up, Commencement, and the State Band Contest. Members also participate in the All-City Band and the annual summer Band Camp.

Broad Ripple's orchestra boasts a busy schedule, including such events as the Christmas program, the annual Orchestra Auditorium, and the Spring Music Festival. Directed by Paul Brown, the orchestra also plays for Ripple Round-Up and grade school music festivals. This year's production of "Brigadoon" featured a small orchestra, made up of members from the larger group. Orchestra members compete in the State Orchestra Contest with a record of winning six first divisions in the past nine years. Eight outstanding members of the Ripple Orchestra were chosen to play in the All-City High School Orchestra this year.

"Riparian Day" sees newspaper staffers frantic

by Barb Wells

When teachers warn "Quit reading that paper during announcements!", when editors panic "What do you mean you haven't even written the story yet!", when sponsors cry "Haven't you developed that picture yet?", it's unmistakably "Riparian Day", Thursday.

Thursday is not only distribution day for Ripple's award-winning newspaper, but it is also the frantic deadline day for the 100 Riparian staffers. By Thursday, each staffer from editor-in-chief to name-checker has played an important part in the production of the paper which has won Quill and Scroll's Honor Rating for the past 12 years under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs and Mrs. Julia Jean Rhodes.

Page editors assign stories, headlines, and layout pages. Copy is turned in by reporters and ad staffers, and it is then read and corrected by copydesk. Sponsors and editor-in-chief make a final check before the paper is "put to bed" on deadline Thursday.

Quill and Scroll membership

Staff members of the Riparian News Bureau, Yearbook, Newspaper, and Photo Staff strive to attain membership in the Broad Ripple chapter of Quill and Scroll, the international honorary society for high school journalists. Junior and senior Riparianites who have been on staff three semesters are eligible for membership. Twice yearly new members of this organization, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs, are chosen for their outstanding work on the Riparian staff. Quill and Scroll inducts these journalists at a banquet given in their honor.

The News Bureau is responsible for keeping Ripple constantly before the public eye by issuing informative news releases and pictures about important Ripple happenings to city and local papers.

Modern office encourages yearbook excellence

by Jane Clay

Hampered slightly by the settling dust of the unfinished ceiling in the new office and occasional interruptions by workmen, yearbook staffers strove to meet deadlines and produce an outstanding yearbook. Modern lighting, larger quarters, and adequate ventilation and heating made yearbook work more enjoyable than in past years.

Last fall, the Riparian Yearbook, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs and Mrs. Julia Jean Rhodes, for the twelfth consecutive year earned the All-American rating of the National Scholastic Press Association. The 1960 Riparian was also one of five Indiana high school yearbooks to win a medalist rating in the Columbia University Annual Scholastic Press Contest.

During the summer, yearbook staff members attended journalism workshops at Indiana University and the University of Michigan to learn journalistic techniques and draw up the "blueprint" or "dummy" for the 1961 book. Three of the six staffers who attended summer workshops earned recognition for outstanding work in yearbook editing, copywriting, and photography.

Back in school, yearbook editors, using the techniques learned at summer institutes, moved quickly to carry out their plans. After long, harried hours of planning, cropping, writing and rewriting, the 1961 Riparian Yearbook became a reality.

Enthusiastically supporting Ripple's athletic teams, the members of Booster Club attend every home football and basketball game. Under the sponsorship of Arnold Pahmeier, and in cooperation with the cheerleaders, the club executes organized cheers. This year's special section, the largest ever, contains 325 girls.

Varsity cheerleaders lead all boosters. These peppy girls arouse school spirit through synchronized yells and chants. Reserve cheerleaders cheer at all the B-team games. The Varsity and Reserve Cheerleaders are guided by Miss Barbara Vargo.

Athletes who have earned letters by excelling in varsity sports become members of Letterman's Club. With Charles Leamon at the helm, the club sponsors a football and basketball throw at the carnival and a dance in the spring. The club uses its profits for athletic equipment.

Through participation in activities, regular attendance, and achievement, members of GAA earn school letters for athletic prowess. BREAKING FOR SECOND, under the direction of the Ripple first base coach, Ken Young eyes the pitch. In this game with Warren Central, the Rockets ousted their opponents, 4-0.

Enlisting an excellent pitching staff plus good hitters, Frank Baird made his twenty-fifth season as head coach at Ripple a successful one. Jerry Barlow, Bill Stoelting, and Tom Withrow accounted for six shut-outs while John Crawford, Jim Herald, John Hobson, Jack Keller, and Ken Young provided the necessary runs for 10 victories in 12 games. Coach Baird's three hurlers held the opposition to an average of 1.4 runs per game.

The series of shut-outs began with a two-hit job pitched by Barlow in the season opener against Franklin. During that game, Franklin was the victim of heavy hitting by juniors Hobson and Crawford. Stoelting struck out fourteen Tigers as the Rockets crushed Crispus Attucks 10-4 in the second game of the season. The action began as Wally Scott crossed the plate in the first inning. In the next inning Stoelting struck out the side and the Rockets increased the margin to 8-0. During the fourth, the Tigers scored their only four runs. Keller doubled in the fifth and Crawford duplicated the feat, driving Keller home. Barlow made another sprint for the plate as the result of a catcher's error, closing the tally for the remainder of the game. Behind the strong pitching of Barlow, the Rockets decisively defeated Lawrence Central, 5-1. Neither team could reach first base until Phil Hedrick was dusted by a wild pitch in the third inning. Don Bigham followed with a bunt, and Barlow and Scott made two perfect squeeze plays to put Hedrick and Bigham across the plate. Ripple picked up two more runs in the fifth and one in the sixth.

In a slugfest the Ripple nine downed Scecina after trailing by two in the opening four innings. Young, Hobson, Barlow, Crawford, and Hedrick scored to boost Ripple ahead in the fifth, and the team went on to win 11-7. The diamondmen won over Anderson for their fifth straight victory as Stoelting shut out the home team. Ripple then subdued the Manual Redskins with the 'lucky' margin of 13-0. teen hits to the Redskins' two. Manual committed six fielding errors to crown their skunking.

Stoelting did it again in the Decatur Central conquering; he whiffed 18 out of the 21 batters which he faced. The remaining three walked, and no one reached the plate. With the addition of these 18 strikeouts, Stoelting increased his three game total to 43. In routing Washington, not only did Barlow hold the opponents to two hits, but he also clouted a home run and a double. Keller and Herald hit a double and a triple, respectively.

The Rockets experienced a few bad breaks, and as a result, they dropped their only two games of the season. On May 18, Cathedral squeaked past the Rockets to hand them their first defeat. Another one-point verdict was attained when Ben Davis turned the trick, May 23.

Back on the winning track again, Ripple ended the season with victories over Warren Central and Shortridge. Stoelting pitched a good game against Warren Central, and he also took part in a rarely seen triple play in the Shortridge game with the assistance of Bigham and Scott.

The Reserve and Freshman teams, both coached by William Sirka, had winning seasons. The Reserves won six out of nine. Four of their six wins were shut-outs. Randy Minniear and Gary Hafner were the mainstays of the pitching staff, recording 3-2 and 3-1 records, respectively. Don Sharlow led the hitters with two home runs.

The Frosh were highly successful, winning both of their games against Howe and Manual.

Racketmen show true potential in City Meet

by Tom Hedberg

Coach Robert Hougham's able racketmen ended their season with a flourish in the City Tennis Tourney, in which they earned valuable points for Ripple in the 59-60 All-Sports Trophy race.

In the all-important City Tourney, Dave Ressler paced the team, by winning three matches and a runnerup city championship title. Ressler easily eliminated his opponents in the preliminary matches and then found himself matched in the finals at Meridian Hills where he had to settle for second place honors. Dale Delaney, Dave Barnes, and the doubles teams of Dave Larson-Ressler and Delaney-Barnes all won their first round matches, but found rough going in the second round, losing their matches. Jerry Ungerman and Larson also lost in the second round after drawing first round byes.

The netman did not compile as impressive a record in their season schedule as in the City Tourney, however. Posting their only win over Manual's Redskins, the team had to settle for a 1-7 record.

Delaney, then a junior, chalked up the best overall record of 10-10. He was followed by Barnes and Ressler with seven victories each, and Larson with four. Returning to the 1961 team will be Barnes, Delaney, and Ungerman.

Lee coaches cindermen to 6 wins in 10 tries

STRAINING EVERY MUSCLE, Ripple's Bud Krause puts the shot in the Richmond meet. Standing in the background, a member of the winning Richmond team looks on.

Coach Mordie Lee's 1960 track squad, composed mostly of underclassmen, racked up an impressive 6-4 season record. From their first showing at the Hoosier Relays to the State Meet, the Ripple thinclads burned up the cinders, showing exceptional strength in running events.

Bob Cambridge, Dave Snapp, Dick Crowell, and Art Campbell teamed up in the Hoosier Relays at Indiana University to cop the two mile relay event. Making Ripple the only double relay winner, Don Poland and Bob Friedline got together with Snapp and Campbell to win the distance medley relay. Poland was the only individual winner as he took a blue ribbon in the 60 yard dash.

Although the Orange and Black finished 3½ points behind winner North Central in a triangular meet including Southport, surprise victories in the broad jump and high jump by Tom Carter and Bob Moon sweetened the taste of defeat. Campbell took an expected first in the mile, and plucky sophomore Dave Snapp came in strong to win the 880 in 2:05.3. The mile relay team of Poland, Snapp, Cambridge, and Campbell set a temporary season best by running the event in 3:38.2.

the cindermen took the sting out of Howe's Hornets. Cambridge and Snapp captured the 440 and 880, respectively, and Campbell outran the field for a win in the mile. With an improved effort of 20′ 1 1/4″, Carter again won the broad jump.

In the Tech meet Campbell stepped down from the 880 to the 440 which he won with an impressive time of 53.1. Crowell grabbed the honors for the mile in 4:42.4, and Doug Atkinson vaulted to victory in the pole vault. In the City Meet the Rockets had to bow to Shortridge, as the Blue Devils accumulated 53 points to Ripple's 40. Ripple's only bright spot was Snapp's record breaking performance of 1:59.5 in the 880. Poland won the 220 in 22.1, but he fell back to fourth in the 100. The mile relay team won in a close dual with Shortridge for Ripple's only relay win.

The trackmen fired up their rockets to blast Cathedral in their next meet. Dick Gohman came out on top in the high hurdles, his first win of the year, and Poland, a triple winner, copped the dashes and the broad jump. Bud Krause's put of 43′ 11 1/4″ won the shot put, and Mike Cooney gained a surprise win in the high jump.

Shortridge again toppled the Orange and Black, this time in the Ripple Invitational. Highlighting the evening were Al Klepinger's 5′ 11″ high jump win and Crowell's winning 4:39.3 mile. A week later Ripple beat Manual taking eight firsts.

Richmond's Red Devils, led by record breaking shot putter Spencer Givens, put out the Rockets' flame. Gohman's 16.9 high hurdle run, his best of the season, was good for a first place, and Crowell and Poland added victories in their specialties.

The thinclads placed four individuals and the mile relay team in the Regionals according to their Sectional performances. Snapp broke the 32-year-old half-mile record with a time of 1:58.6; however, he was still a stride behind Shortridge's John Knapp who had a time of 1:58.3. Breaking the mile relay record by one-tenth of a second, Poland, Cambridge, Crowell, and Snapp were edged out by Shortridge who crashed the old mark by almost two seconds. Other regional qualifiers were Crowell in the mile, Atkinson in the pole vault, and Poland in both dashes. North Central won the Sectionals with Ripple placing fifth, fifteen points out of first.

Poland was Ripple's only champion in the Regionals as he won the 220. He also qualified for the State Finals in the 100. Snapp copped second in the 880, and Don Atkinson took third in the pole vault, both efforts good enough to make the State. The mile relay team again won second place putting them in the finals. Ripple placed third in the Regionals behind North Central and Shortridge.

Ripple placed tenth in the State Meet. Accumulating four of Ripple's seven points, Poland placed third in the 220, his first defeat of the season in this event, and fifth in the 100. Although Snapp ran his best time in the 880, 1:57.6, it was only good enough for fifth. The mile relay team picked up two points by taking fifth.

Coach Earl Dose's B-team won one of four meets. Cathedral was the lone victim, 67-50, as the Reserves, hampered by a lack of depth, fell to Tech, 66½-41½; Howe, 64-45; and Richmond, 96-11.

The Freshmen, coached by Milton Hiatt, were more successful, chalking up a 3-2 win-loss record. Losing their curtain raiser to Westlane, 65¾-43¼, the "Greenies" bounced back to crush Eastwood, 66-45, and Cathedral, 79¾-29¼. In the latter meet Bill Chrissinger set a new freshman mark of 5′7½″ in the high jump. Although Manual provided a 63-42 loss, Ripple's Frosh cut down Ben Davis, 72-33 in the last meet. The Freshmen took sixth in the Freshman City Meet.

Linksters card 11-0-1 record; take third in State

by Ron Davis

Bringing a successful campaign to a close by taking third place in the State Meet at Coffin, Coach John E. Williams' linkster chalked up a 11-0-1 record, their finest season ever. Led by junior Ron Frantz, who tied for medalist honors in the State Meet with a 76, senior Ed Ferguson, who gained runner-up honors one stroke behind Frantz, and junior Ron Davis, the long-knockers were successful in every encounter during the season, faltering only in a tie with West Lafayette.

Besides taking third in the State Meet behind La-Porte and Lebanon, the Rockets captured second in the Sectionals, and a tie for first in the City-County Meet. In the Sectionals, also at Riverside, the divotmen recorded a 312, finishing two shots behind first place Lebanon. Ferguson shot 76, Davis 77, Kohlman 78, and Frantz 81.

Posting a 305, the linksmen tied a young Cathedral team for the co-championship in the City-County Meet. Davis carded a 75, Frantz and Russ Kohlman shot 76's, and Steve Johnson took 78 strokes. Showing their potential for the 1961 season, the Rockets easily won the Fall-County Meet at Riverside with a 303, five strokes better than second place Washington. Led by medalist Bill Reichert, who fired an even par 72, the Rockets were the only team to have all six members in the 70's. Following Reichert was BROAD RIPPLE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR Kyle Peters happily accepts the 1960 Times All-Sports Trophy from Sports Writer Jimmie Angelopolous. The Indianapolis Times newspaper conducts this annual inter-school contest.

Ripple athletes win Times All-Sports Trophy

by Jimmie Angelopolous, Indianapolis Times Sportswriter

That Broad Ripple High School's athletic program is one of the best in Indianapolis has been known for many years. When Broad Ripple added The Indianapolis Times City All-Sports Trophy to its trophy case last year, the trophy resembled a monument to Broad Ripple athletic excellence.

In five previous years, Broad Ripple's athletic program reflected its soundness. Every year Broad Ripple teams finished among the leaders seeking one leg on The Times All-Sports Trophy. In past seasons, Rocket teams placed second, third or fourth behind Shortridge and Tech in the eight-sport city competition until their excellent team balance paid off last year.

To win The Times All-Sports Trophy in 1959-60, Broad Ripple teams shared firsts in wrestling and golf, finished second in track and baseball, fourth in cross-country, fifth in tennis, seventh in football and eighth in basketball. This was significant because Indianapolis prep athletics not only have become among the most competitive in the nation, but last year's city competition was the keenest in All-Sports history.

Broad Ripple scored 145½ points. Shortridge was second with 142. Cathedral made 141 and Tech scored 129. Spanning eight sports, this is extremely close. The trophy wasn't decided until the final city baseball game. And in baseball, Broad Ripple is the Yankees of Indianapolis.

In winning the first leg on The Times' new All-Sports Trophy, Broad Ripple earned permanent possession of an All-Sports Plaque. The school also retained the huge All-Sports Trophy during the current year. Any school winning the All-Sports Trophy three times keeps the trophy permanently. The three winning legs need not follow in succession.

With one leg already in Broad Ripple's trophy case, Rocket teams have the inside track to permanent possession of the trophy, a symbol of athletic supremacy in city high school athletics.

Brown's gladiators victorious in 4 home games;

by Pete Barrick

"Unpredictable" is the only way to describe Coach Bob Brown's Ripple Rockets. No one could tell how the gladiators would fare from week to week. They switched from the losing road, to the winning road and back again five times during the season. The only regularity that can be pointed out in the season is that the Rockets make better hosts than visitors since varsity gridders won all four home games and lost all five away.

In the first skirmish of the season, the Rockets traveled to Kokomo. The inexperienced Rockets were crushed by the seasoned Wildcats, 34-7. This year the Kats boasted 22 returning lettermen against Ripple's 5.

However, the next week, proving they had the stuff to win, the Rockets upset Tech 14-12. This victory over the North Central Conference Champions stimulated the Ripple winning spirit.

Against Scecina the Rockets looked nothing like the team that just one week earlier defeated Tech. The Ripple line seemed to flounder against the smaller, lighter Crusaders as Ripple was only able to muster 14 points compared to Scecina's 26. Mike Schmidt managed to slip through the Rocket defense for two touchdowns of more than fifty yards.

Still on the road, the Rockets traveled to Richmond where they came within a touchdown of the highly-rated Red Devils in a 21-12 contest. The Rockets just weren't able to get started early enough. However, in the third quarter, Denny White climaxed a fifty-two yard drive with a smash through the center for a touchdown, and later in the fourth, Douthit hit successfully on six out of eight passes accounting for Ripple's 12 points.

Perhaps feeling the spirit of homecoming or the familiarity of their own field, the Rockets plastered Howe, 27-19. The Broad Ripple gridders led all the way, pouncing on a Howe fumble and scoring on a double reverse several plays later. Later in the game, the Hornets fumbled again, and this time Bob Stewart picked up the loose pigskin and scampered 68 yards for the touchdown.

The Continentals of Washington gave the Rockets a harder time, however. At the end of the first quarter the Rockets faced a 12-0 deficit. Shortly after the beginning of the second quarter the Rockets literally blasted off. Mainly through the passing arm of Jay Douthit and the power drive of Steve McCuen, the gridders scored their initial touchdown. Later in the quarter the Rockets turned the trick the Ripple way.

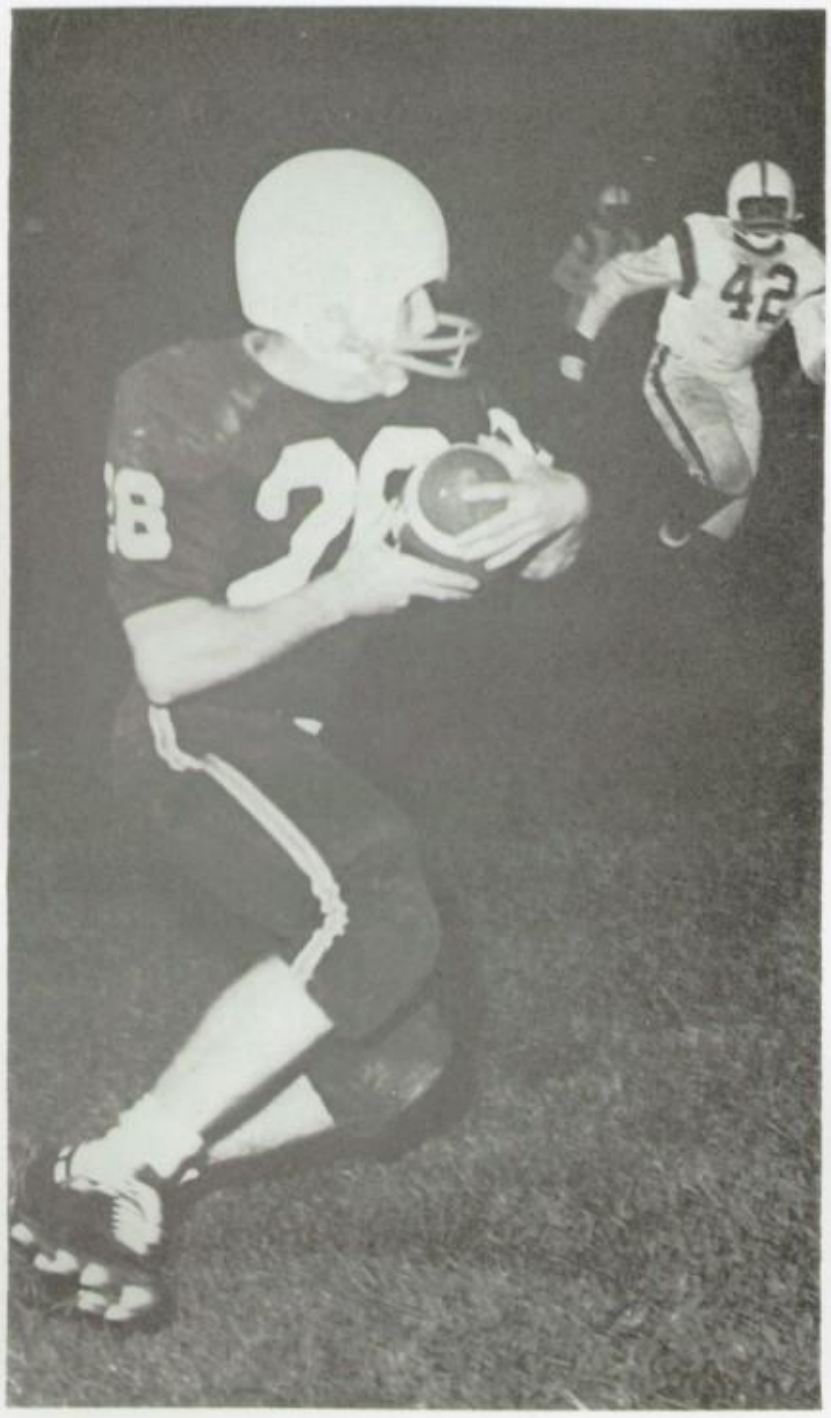
AN ALERT RIPPLE DEFENSE converges on a Cathedral quarterback to hold him for no gain and avert a score for the City Champs.



Scoring on a quick pass to Dave Meek, and scoring the extra point, the Rockets racked up their second win, 14-12.

Back on the losing road again, the Rockets dropped games to Manual and Cathedral. Against Manual the gridsters looked weak as injuries accumulated earlier in the season began to show their effect. However, the Ripple backfield, composed basically of underclassmen, made a good showing as they managed to roll up 19 points, but failed to stop the Redskins who chalked up 34.

At the rainsoaked CYO field, the Rockets were clearly outclassed by City Champs Cathedral. John Crawford was able to keep the Rockets from a shut out by scoring on a 6 yard plunge which climaxed a 65 yard, 13 play drive. The Irish won 27-6.

Rebounding from two consecutive city losses, the Rockets downed arch-rival Shortridge, 19-7. Ripple combined a strong defensive unit, with a well-balanced offense to stop the Blue Devils in their tracks. After a slow start, the first score came in the second quarter as Bob Stewart swept right end for a 25 yard touchdown. Later Stewart and Denny White added the other Ripple TD's. This win helped to heal the wound of last year's defeat, which was Ripple's only loss to Shortridge in the last seven years.

The Reserve gridders, according to Coach Charles Leamon, had its most successful season in the past eight years. Winning six and losing five, the reserves beat Anderson, Tech, Manual, North Central, Howe, and Cathedral.

The Freshman gridsters didn't fair as well as the other pigskin units. Coach Earl Dose's Frosh were blasted in all seven of their gridiron clashes. The gridders were defeated by Scecina, 12-6, Washington, 12-0, Howe, 14-6, Manual, 34-6, Cathedral, 53-0, Tech, 25-0, and Shortridge, 13-0.

Varsity captain Dave Meek gained a berth on the Times' All-City eleven as a first string tackle. Making honorable mention on the squad, Bob Stewart led scoring for the Varsity Rockets, compiling 36 points on 5 touchdowns and 6 extra points, while Denny White added 15 points for the season.

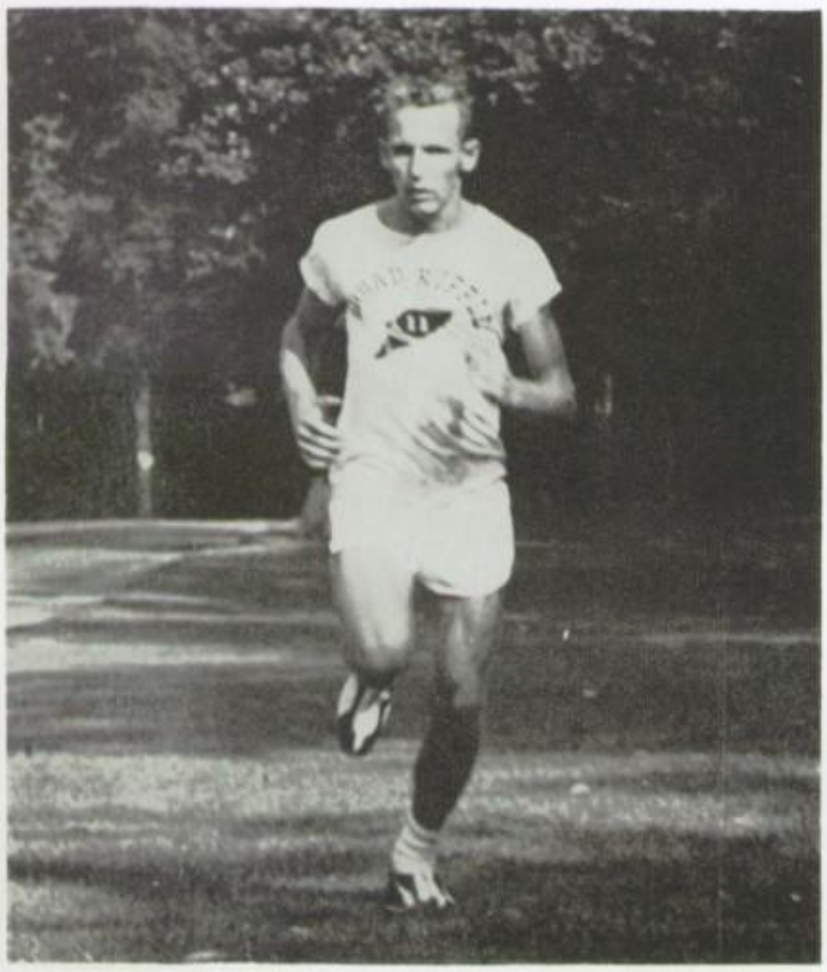
PACING HIMSELF over a long and grueling race, junior harrier Dave Snapp leads the field by a large margin.



With a nucleus of four returning varsity members, Mordie Lee's hill-n-dalers completed a successful season. Although the Rockets won only one of three dual meets, they won both tri-angular meets. A fourth in the City Meet and a fifth in the Sectionals also demonstrated the team's capabilities.

Bolstering their morale by overpowering Tipton and Zionsville in the season opener, the harriers moved to South Grove for the Washington Invitational. Aided by two medal winners, Dave Snapp and Mike Cronin, the Rockets gained fourth position.

Minus Snapp and Len Moline, the Rockets were grounded by a balanced Southport team. Back in full strength the harriers ran their best time of the season as they copped third among the other fifteen competitors in the Howe Invitational. The hill-n-dalers then returned home in their own invitational where they made a clean sweep of the first six places.

Cathedral's Irish then put out the Rocket's flame in a closely tested pacer. The Rockets ranked well in the City Meet by capturing fourth. As a final tune-up for the Sectionals, the Ripple team defeated Shortridge. In the Sectional competition, the last meet of the season, the team finished fifth in a field of thirty-two teams.

Broad Ripple was again well represented at the State Wrestling Tourney in 1961. Jim Loeper, 138 lb. class, copped first place in the State Finals and defending State Champ Jim Herald took second place in the 127 lb. class.

Thanks to the fine showing of these two seniors, Ripple again placed high in the team standings with a tie for fourth. Seniors Herald, Loeper, and Steve Smith and sophomore Darryl Kladden qualified for the Regional Meet by winning Sectional championships. Smith and Kladden, wrestling in the 145 and 103 lb. classes, respectively, failed to qualify for the finals at Bloomington.

Despite individual honors, the 1960-61 Rocket wrestling team suffered the worst season in five years, posting a 6-6 record, although they copped sixth in the City Meet, fourth in the Sectionals, and sixth in the Regional Meet.

The grunt and groaners took their lumps in the season's first two encounters. They lost to Tech, 31-13, and Ben Davis, 34-13. Bouncing back, the Rockets thumped Scecina, 34-12, for the season's first team win. State Champ Wood dumped the Ripple grapplers 28-26 the following week for the third Ripple beat city foes Washington and Howe next, by 28-19 and 35-12 counts, respectively. City Champ Shortridge was caught polishing its crown, and eked out a narrow win over the Rocket matmen, 24-23.

Coach Bill Sirka's boys rapped Bloomington and Manual, 28-12 and 23-2, respectively, before dropping their last two meets to Kokomo and Southport.

Reserves Bob Kubik, 145 lbs.; Ron Albright, 154 lbs.; and Joe Klein, 165 lbs., copped second in the City Meet to help the reserves take fifth. The record stood at 3-8-1 with wins over Wood, Howe, and Cathedral. Losses went to Tech, Ben Davis, Scecina, Washington, Cathedral, Shortridge, Southport, and Manual. The reserves tied Kokomo.

Robert Ludlow started as reserve and freshman wrestling mentor in 1960 by coaching both teams to fifth place in the City Meet. George Murray, freshman, won the 175 lb. class City title, while Dan Miller placed second in the 165 lb. class. The freshmen wrestled four meets, losing to Shortridge, Westlane, and Cathedral, and winning over Eastwood in the season's first encounter.

Roundballers rack up sub-par 7-13 season mark;

by Bill Reichert

"I noticed during the Manual game that Ripple doesn't give up until it's over—and that's a good sign." So stated sportswriter Frank Smith of the Indianapolis News. He was right, too. Manual owned an insurmountable 20 point lead going into the fourth quarter; but the Rockets, destined to wind up the 1960-1961 Basketball season with a humble 7-13 record, kept plugging with all they had until the final gun.

Ripple upset no top-ranked teams although they lost by only four points to 17th ranked Connersville in a characteristic come-from-behind effort. Facing Tech, Cathedral, and Manual, they were slapped down each time by 20 points or more.

But the attitude of Coach Gene Beaman's team and some underclass talent point to a promising future. Sophomores Ron Salatich and Bill Brown earned six and seven point averages and were picking up momentum as the season ended. Juniors Randy Minniear, Jay Douthit, and Steve Schubert were all members of the "wrecking crew" that Coach Beaman used toward the end of the games when more hustle than poise was required. Douthit saw considerable action toward the end of the season. Minniear, in typical last-chance fashion, scored the winning basket against Richmond. With two seconds left he popped one from about 13 feet. As the season started, Shubert was hailed by one of the Ripple coaches as the best shooter on the team.

The underclassmen are awaiting the '61-'62 season, but the seniors have to be satisfied with their 7-13 accomplishment. Some of the games were a little hard to take. Hapless Lawrence Central's upset in the season opener didn't get things off to a good start. In the Cathedral game the Irish's 6-8 center Walt Sahm scored 44 points in a humiliating 76-47 defeat. Tech's strong, pressing defense iced the Rocket offense and left the Greenclads free to run up an 80-46 score. Manual's 80-60 route didn't help the morale, either.

As a matter of fact, toward the end of the season the team's spirit was getting understandably low. But the season wasn't all sour grapes. Ripple pounded Decatur Central and Howe in early season play. Senior center Dave Boots turned in his best effort of the year against Warren Central. Boots scored 24 and Ripple won, 83-73. Thanks to John Hobson's nine of twelve from the free throw stripe with the pressure on, Ripple stayed in the running to let Minniear sink the winning shot at Richmond.

Completely overpowering Sacred Heart, the Orange and Black spread the scoring evenly to win easily, 62-49. Mark Booth's 22 points led the team to another easy win when Greenfield visited Ripple. The seventh win came at the expense of Greencastle with Jan Babb scoring honors for Ripple; he put in 20 points.

Three times during the season, the squad lost games that were decided in the final moments. With two seconds left in the overtime period, Lawrence's Dan Sturgeon made good a free throw try to win for the Bears, 46-45. Ben Davis trailed until the final seconds when they went ahead for good as Gary Simmons laid the ball in the Giants' goal as time ran out. Washington's Joe Purichia tossed in 11 points in the final quarter of Ripple's second game with the Continentals to enable them to squeek by 58-56 for the Rockets final close-call loss.

Their attack faltering in the second half, Ripple lost to Southport early in the season. They lost to the scrappy Washington team two other times besides the 58-56 affair. The games were Ripple's first-round in the City Tourney and Sectional. Scecina and Shortridge also outlasted Ripple.

The reserve basketball team, under the direction of Coach Charles Leamon, started off its season by beating Lawrence, 34-32, and Decatur Central, 50-25; they were on their way to a bright 12-7 season which was to include a six game losing streak and an eight game winning streak. Ben Davis whipped the reserves for the first time, 32-29; but they got on the right track again against Connersville, 47-38; and Howe, 47-33; before losing to Southport, 48-40; Warren Central, 61-60; Washington, 44-31; Manual, 36-22; Richmond, 54-48; and Cathedral, 48-45. After that, the reserves, led by Tom Corson (233 points), Jack Hogan (149 points), and Brandt Downey (137 points), started winning and didn't stop until the season ended.

They beat Scecina, 51-37; Sacred Heart, 51-31; Washington, 57-31; Greenfield, 53-39; Tech, 51-48; Shortridge, 43-37; Noblesville, 55-43; and Greencastle, 53-45.

The freshman cage team came up with a 5-12 slate for the '60-'61 season; Coached by Bill Jessee, the freshmen were led by the top-scorer Mike Boyd.

Changing Places

This was a year of change for the yearbook office too. After years of stifling in a small windowless storage room in the dark recesses of the old, old building, the staff joyously moved to a large, airy room in the new addition. In late August the staff, donning bermudas and sweat shirts, arranged the typewriters, desks, file cabinets, and the yearbook library to establish the Riparian's home in the new wing. Filled with eager anticipation prompted by the new office and the prospect of beginning the 1961 yearbook, Riparian staffers began to take and crop pictures and write and edit copy. Work progressed at a steady pace in spite of frequent interruptions by workmen who enclosed a ventilation pipe and covered the rock wool ceiling with acoustical tile. Finally, in April, after hard work, fun, and a few tears, the staff with the aid of sponsors, Mrs. Ruth Marie Griggs and Mrs. Julia Jean Rhodes, sent final proofs and instructions to the printer completing the 1961 Riparian.

BROAD RIPPLE
HIGH SCHOOL

Bep,
a real nice guy who is loads of fun. Good Luck
next year and always
Sharon Kisselman

Bep,
I have enjoyed us despite of your nearly freezing me to death, parking ganesus at my papers, getting your dirty looks and losing your books.
I can truthfully
say I've had a few million (almost) laughs and I'm sure we are a real pair. I have had a class with you. It's been a real pleasure working with you and I know
you won't get
Good luck next year.
Love Diana
